

ACKNOWLEDGEMENT

First and foremost I would like to thank my GOD Almighty for his infinite blessings that enabled me to pursue higher goals in my life.

Many people have added to the culmination of this research work. I might want to thank and perceive the individuals who guided me throughout my research journey. I first need to recognize my research supervisor and mentor, Associate Professor Baiju Gopal for his direction and instructions all through my research journey. He was constantly receptive to me, notwithstanding his bustling commitment and always extended all kind of assistance which empowered me to finish my thesis well on time..

I likewise need to offer my thanks to Dr. K Jayasankara Reddy, Ph.D. Course Coordinator for the discipline of Psychology, for his direction and help all through my exploration travel at CHRIST (Deemed to be University). In spite of his bustling timetable, he was constantly available to me.

I also take this opportunity to thank the entire Psychology faculty who encouraged and guided me throughout my research journey.

I am grateful to Dr.(Fr) Thomas C Mathew, Vice Chancellor of CHRIST (Deemed to be University) and his office bearers for their support from time to time. I thank Dr Tony Sam George, Additional Director, Centre for Research and Head of the Department (Psychology), CHRIST (Deemed to be University) for his valuable support and guidance. My sincere thanks to Mr James Kurian, Assistant Coordinator, Centre for Research, CHRIST (Deemed to be University) for his accessibility in times of help of support during my research journey.

Thanks to all the experts and technical people for extending their support and guidance in different areas. I would like to thank them all whole heartedly.

On account of every one of my students, particularly Animesh Das and Rohit Sil helped me on various occasions, particularly amid the information gathering period. They were with me in numerous spots without administering to their loss of time. I truly recognize their commitment appeared towards me.

Last yet not the minimum, I would prefer not to miss the chance to recognize the part of my companions and relatives. My family has an awesome part in this voyage particularly, my parents, my wife Bindu Bency and son Reuben. My dad and mom were in every case exceptionally strong, yet sadly my dad left for his heavenly home in the mid of my research journey. I owe my prosperity to my folks particularly my dad and mom. Without their support it would have been a dream which became a reality today and I finished my Ph.D.

Thank you ALL!

Bency Joy
